

DYSLEXIA IN ENGINEERING DAY

THURSDAY 22nd OCTOBER 2026

Get involved on Thursday 22nd
October #dyslexiaengineering

Dyslexia in Engineering Day is about actively raising awareness of dyslexia within the engineering profession and the organisations that are committed to bringing about impactful change.

What You Can Do

Follow our social media channels

This is still a relatively new campaign, so building an online presence is really important. The Twitter and LinkedIn handles can be found below for you to follow.

Get ready to share your story

This coming year focuses on the question 'What is dyslexia in engineering?' You can help spread awareness by sharing what you are doing as individuals and organizations. Share your stories and experiences.

Use the hashtag

By posting with the hashtag #dyslexiaengineering on the 22nd October, and over the coming months, you will help to inform, inspire and drive change.
